CELEBRATION OF JUBILEE OF THE POPE

Large Number of Visitors in Charleroi Yesterday to Witness Exercises

PARADE WAS A FEATURE

Sunday afternoon there convened in Charleroi societies and congregations of a number of the Catholic churches in the valley for the celebration of the golden jubilee of Pope Pius X. It is thought that in all there were 3,000 visitors this number including several priests who were here to assist in the exercises. The feature of the day was a parade which was followed by speaking in the Coyle theatre.

The societies of Monessen, and Charleroi churches met the honor guests at the station at Lock 4. In automobiles they were escorted, with the congregation of St. Jeromes, and the societies of the Polish, Italian and Slavish charches following, in the line of parade as it had been arranged. Coming from North Charleroi up McKean avenue to Ninth street the company went up that street to Fallowfield avenue, thence on that street to Second, down to McKean, then to Sixth street, up Fallowfield again, back to Fourth and then to the Coyle theatre.

By the time the marchers arrived at the theatre, that place was crowded, and hundreds could not gain admittance. Burgess Hott made the address of welcome. The principal speaker of the day was Rev. O'Connell, of Pittsburg. His address was of the Papacy. Another speaker was Monsignor William Kittell. His was a biographical sketch of the Pope. The meeting at the theatre was closed by Rev. W. D. Fries, of St. Jeromes. The benediction was said at St. Jeromes church, the people marching from the opera house to that place.

ATTORNEYS MUST FILE PETITIONS

Attorneys who represent liquor license applicants, retail and wholesale, in this county, are already making preparations to file the petitions of their respective clients. Within a few days these will begin to be put on file in the clerk of courts office. The past week several attorneys have been looking over last year's applications of their respective clients, in preparation for this year's petitions.

If the schedule is carried out as has previously been done Judge Taylor will sit in license court this year and court will open the first Monday in February. License court will be in session the same week that the grand jurors for the February term of criminal court meet. Judge McIlvaine will sit in criminal court that week.

Petitioners for liquor licenses must have their petitions in 30 days prior to the opening of license court. Remonstrances and supplemental petitioners are filed later.

JURY DISAGREED IN CASE AGAINST J. B. F. RINEHART

Waynesburg, Dec. 14.—(Special to the Mail.) The jury in the case against J. B. F. Rinehart who is charged with having wrecked the Farmer's and Drovers bank at this place have disagreed in the case, being unable to reach any agreement after being out since Saturday afternoon. The news of this was received with grief by those who have been assisting in the prosecution of Rinehart, and with joy by his friends. All Greene county is stirred by the case.

This morning the jury finding themselves unable to reach an agreement reported to the court. At 11 o'clock they were with the consent of the counsel for both Rinehart and the State discharged. Next week the former cashier of the Farmer's bank will be called before the Federal courts at Pittsburg to answer charges which grew out of the bank wrecking.

POPULAR YOUNG WOMAN SUCCUMBS

On Sunday morning at 3:15 o'clock, at her home in New Haven, Mrs. Nellie T. Lindaur, the wife of Fred Lindaur, died after a several days illness, of blood poisoning. The deceased was just past 20 years of age. The body was brought to Charleroi this afternoon on the 1:21 train, to the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Barhnart on Fourth street. Mr. and Mrs. Lindaur have been married but about a year. They lived in Charleroi for some time moving to New Haven but recently. Mr. Lindaur was formerly employed as pianist at the Palace theatre here, of which the father of the deceased is the owner and manager. This is the first death in the Barnhart family which fact makes it all the more sadder for the sorrowing parents and near relatives. She was immensely popular among a large circle of friends in Charleroi, and other places in the valley where she was known, all of whom are extremely sorry to hear of her demise. The report was given out on Saturday afternoon by the attending physicians that Mrs. Lindaur would recover from her illness. The father who had been by her bedside, returned home. At 12 o'clock he was summoned by telephone, and told that she was dying.

Those who survive are the parents, a brother, Harry, and three sisters, Fannie, Ada and Lillian.

The funeral will be held from the home of the parents on Fourth street at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. T. Hackett, of the First Presbyterian church. The body will be taken to Monongahela for interment. A special car will convey the friends to that place, meeting the funeral procession at the foot of Fourth street.

Progressive Euchre.

A progressive euchre will be held in the Charleroi Savings and Trust company hall on Thursday evening of this week for the benefit of the Juvenile court of Washington county. Playing will begin at 8:15. All are invited.

Notice.

I hereby give notice that I have resigned as a detective, also from employment agency. People whom I took to be my enemies, proved to be my friends, and I will have nothing more to do with such work.

CORONER'S INQUEST ON THURSDAY

Thought that Sole Survivor of Marianna Horror May be Present

WILL BE AT COURT HOUSE

Coroner W. H. Sipe announced last evening that the inquest into the Marianna mine disaster would be held on Thursday of this week at the office of the coroner in the court house. The inquest will be begun at 10 o'clock a. m.

Numerous witnesses have been summoned including mine officials, mine experts mine inspectors and miners.

Coroner Sipe stated last evening that he hoped to have in attendance at the inquest, Fred Ellinger, the sole survivor of the awful catastrophe. Since being taken out of the mine the night after the explosion, Elinger has been in the Memorial hospital at Monongahela City. Attending physicians have not yet given their consent to Elinger's leaving the hospital. His presence at the inquest will depend entirely on his condition next Thursday morning.

SAD CASE OF MIS-IDENTIFICATION

Monongahela, Dec. 14.—An unfortunate case of mis-identification among the Marianna victims has been disclosed a body which was taken from the Raciel mine Thursday being positively identified by P. J. Mackin as that of his brother Alfred Mackin. Over a week ago a body brought from the wrecked mine was buried by relatives of Alfred Mackin as those remains had been identified and sworn to by another brother as being Alfred Mackin's. The body brought out Thursday was also identified as that of Alfred Mackin by a young lady whose ring was on his finger when the explosion occurred. The first body was interred at Scottdale.

The body buried is believed to have been that of Seward Bennington, of Monongahela who with his brother was killed. The body of the elder Bennington brother was recovered but that of the younger boy had never been found to be identified. Both boys were sons of Mrs. Mary Bennington a widow.

Patrick Mackin a brother of young Mackin was in Monongahela on Saturday night and made positive identification of the body. Upon his return home he was accompanied by relatives of Bennington. They will have the body which was buried at Scottdale as Mackin exhumed at once and if it is the one for which they are seeking the body will be brought back to Monongahela and reburied. Both Mackin and Seward Bennington were of about the same size and build and it is thought that the first found was the body of the latter.

PERSISTENT EFFORT TO RAISE FUNDS

GOV. STUART A MEMBER

Washington, Dec. 14.—An organized effort to raise funds for the relief of those made destitute by the disaster at the Marianna mine of the Pittsburg-Buffalo company, this county, on November 28, was inaugurated Saturday afternoon by the Washington board of trade. A committee with Governor Edwin S. Stuart as its chairman and many prominent men in the state as members was appointed at the meeting to take charge of the relief work. Joseph C. Baird, cashier of the First National bank, has been appointed custodian of all funds and it is the request of the board of trade that all funds of for the Marianna relief fund be sent to him.

Saturday afternoon a formal appeal to the people of Pennsylvania was issued by the Washington board of trade for $100,000 which amount it is estimated will be necessary at once to relieve the destitution. This appeal will be sent to all sections of the commonwealth and contributions will be solicited everywhere. The action of the local board of trade was taken following a specific appeal made today by the local relief committee at Marianna. This appeal addressed to the Washington organization follows:

"To the Washington Board of Trade:

"The committee in charge of the relief fund for the widows and orphans of the Marianna mine disaster hereby makes an appeal to the Washington board of trade for their assistance in the raising of funds and also in the distribution of same. We desire hearty co-opeartion with the board of trade in devising methods by which to reach those who are in the foreign field. Please consider this matter and if possible come to our relief.

LECTURER OTT WILL BE HERE

We are apt to think that in this day of rush and hurry there is no time for the art of oratory. Social and economic conditions have made it necessary that each man should cultivate the art of being brief; of speaking only when it is absolutely necessary and the saying what he wants to say as expeditiously as possible. There are those among us who regret this tendency of the times sincerely, just as we do the charges in home life and the loss of other cultural leisure. We would like to get back to the days of the old Greeks and Romans, when men and women had time to talk things over and indulge in frequent flights on the wings of oratory.

So when we come to a little bit of the real thing in this day and generation it is wonderfully refreshing. Once in a while a man comes to us with the gift of speech. He takes his audience with him up to to the heights. He and they together rise above the humdrum everyday cares and perplexities into a purer air. It is a rare gift but some men have it. Oratory is not dead—not yet. Governor Cummins of Iowa says of Edward Amherst Ott, who will appear here on Friday on the High School lecture course

"It is a curious effort to assume that the day of the orator has passed. Upon the contrary, I believe his influence is greater than ever before. Therefore I feel a deep interest in the work Mr. Ott is doing. He is an accomplished speaker, a close and indefatigable student and eminently fitted to train men, whether old or young, in the art of public speaking."

MAY LOOSE AN EYE FROM THE RESULT OF BRIEF BATTLE

It is feared that a man by the name of William Romig, a painter of Monongahela will lose an eye as the result of a brief battle on the river shore at Monongahela this morning with a former enemy, Daniel Barrett, a railroad man. The two had not seen each other for some time, and when they met this morning in a barber shop an old quarrel was renewed. They went to the river shore to settle the differences. Barrett was the quicker, and in a twinkling had knocked Romig down. He kicked him into the river, and when spectators arrived, the latter was just scrambling from that place.

One of his eyes was badly cut and hanging over his cheek, and blood was flowing from the wound. Romig claimed that Barrett struck him with a bolt. He had a physician dress his injury, but it is hardly likely that the eye, which was practically the only wound, can be saved. A warrant was sworn out for Barrett and he will be arrested, it is thought today.

CHARLEROI BEATS LEAGUE LEADERS

The Charleroi team in the Monongahela Valley Association Football league on Saturday on the local grounds beat the champion Roscoe eleven which at present leads in the league, in what was without doubt the best game of the season. The rivalry was intense, which fact made the contest fast and furious throughout. After the beginning of the second half, it was neither's contest for several minutes until J. Hynds, the star Charleroi center forward through extraordinary brilliant work, succeeded in getting the ball between the bars.

The first score was made by Charleroi in the first half, after about fifteen minutes of play. Up until that time the ball had been kept in the middle of the field. J. Hynds made the kick which sent it through. No other scores were made in this half.

In the second half the Roscoe team got one on a penalty, tying the score. Soon after, Charleroi secured one, it being the final score of the game. Near the last of the contest, some of the most beautiful work ever seen on the football field was witnessed. The work of J. Hynds, who was the shining light of the game, the entire backfield of the local bunch, and that of the AcKinclose brothers of Roscoe, deserves special mention. The lineup:

Charleroi—2.		Roscoe—1.
Baird	G	Collins
H. Hynds	F. B.	Brisbine
Mencer	F. B.	George AcKinclose
Brooks	H. B	Dickson
Robison	H. B.	Garnet AcKinclose
Clark	H. B.	Malarkey
Luxbacker	F.	Fechter
Campbell	F.	Allen
J. Hynds	F	Duncan
Holden	F.	Underwood
O'Hara	F.	Davis.

Goals—J Hynds 2. Penalty goal—Garnet AcKinclose. Referee—Little of Baird. Linesmen—Quinn and Collins. Time of halves—45 minutes.

Notice.

Having disposed of our business we wish to close our books and request that all parties owing this firm make settlement by December 20, 1908 or the same will be placed with the proper authorities for collection.

Paper From Corn Stalk.

One of the most pleasing things that we have had the pleasure of hearing, is that cheap paper can be made from cornstalks. Uncle Sam's busy chemists have solved this fact for us. The disappearance of forests, and the machinations of the paper trust have made the price of paper soar like a bird, and at the rate we are going now paper is destined to be beyond the reach of ordinary individuals—paper railroads would cost more than real ones, and paper soled shoes will be a luxury. The conditions are such, that it is plain to be seen that if something was not done and that soon, the Sunday newspaper will be no larger than the ordinary atlas, and the cost of magazines will be so great that all story matter will have to be left out.

It seems however that we are to be saved from these possibilities. With the farmer growing cook-books and car wheels, and fire proof theatre curtains behind the barn, there is little danger of a world wide famine, in this commodity. Before long it is thought that the farmer may have his own paper trust. This would be a good scheme for the farmers, and the user alike, for the farmer would have a new source of profit and the cost of the commodity to the user would be considerable decreased.

Much Needed Improvement.

It would be a good idea for the Charleroi Water company, that seemingly heartless corporation, against which there has been so many kicks registered to provide for their patrons in this place a method by which they could learn when the water in the main lines is to be turned off. Yesterday at noon we had an example of the inconvenience which can be caused the residents by the shutting off of the water supply, and not notifying the users. The cause of the discontinuance of the supply for something over an hour was a break in the main line, on Third street, which had to be fixed. It happened at just the most inconvenient time of the day, and when the residents were in the most need of the water.

If the company would arrange to by notify their patrons by whistle, or in some other method, it would be a great improvement. It could easily be arranged at a very small cost.

BIG SUIT FOR DAMAGES NOW ON

When common pleas court was adjourned on Saturday two cases remained unconcluded. In Judge McIlvaine's room the Bumgarner-P. R. R. damage suit was still being heard. The plaintiff's side has completed its direct testimony and this afternoon at 1 o'clock the defense will put in its testimony. The defense will endeavor to prove that the plaintiff's farm has not been damaged in any such amount as he alleges. As to the depreciation in the value of his coal the defense will show that the plaintiff holds just 30 acres, that it is surrounded by coal of the Clyde Coal company, and not unaccessable for this company, and not liable to be taken up by any other company on account of the small acreage.

In Judge Taylor's room in the Beddine-Farabee, et al suit, a claim for lumber, the testimony was completed at noon on Saturday and this afternoon the arguments will be made, jury charged and case given to the jury. Of the cases remaining over from last week there are two other suits of Jesse Bumgarner against the Pittsburg, Monongahela and Southern Railroad company to follow the one now on trial. These will take up the most of the week. Another case carried over to this week is the suit of J. B. Bell and others, against the Chartiers Railway company. Irwin and Wiley are interested in this and with Mr. Irwin busy in the Bumgarner suits. Mr. Wiley may take this case up.

Riggle Denies The Implication

It has been intimated, and from the report, I hear, I am blamed for being one of the parties who bought the whiskey at Fredericktown and sold a quantity of the same back to the distiller. DON'T BE BALD

Nearly Anyone May Secure a Splendid Growth of Hair

You can easily find out for yourself if your hair needs nourishment, if it is thinning out, getting dry, harsh and brittle, or splitting at the end. You simply have to pull a hair from the top of your head and closely examine its root. If the bulb is plump and rosy, it is all right—if it is white and shrunken, your hair is diseased and needs nourishment.

We have a remedy for hair troubles that cannot be surpassed. It has a record of growing hair and curing baldness 93 out of every 100 cases where used according to directions for a reasonable length of time. It will even grow hair on bald heads, if the scalp is not glazed and shiny. That may seem like a strong statement—it is, and we mean it to be, and no one should doubt it until they have put our claims to an actual test.

We are so sure that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will cure dandruff, prevent baldness, stimulate the scalp and hair roots, stop falling hair and grow new hair, that we personally give our positive guarantee to refund every penny paid us for Rexall "93" Hair Tonic in every instance where it doesnt do as we claim or fails to give entire satisfaction to the user.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is as pleasant to use as clear spring water. It is delightfully perfumed, and does not greate or gum the hair. We have it in two sizes. Prices 50c and $1.00. A HEROIC KNITTER.

No Yarns of Danger Could Deter This Placid Old Lady.

Coming up from Washington to New York one day, a woman was seen to make herself comfortable in one of the big chairs in the parlor car, and when the train was well under way she proceeded to take out some pretty silk knitting work, which would seem an ideal occupation for a journey of a few hours, as it involves no eye strain and gives one a joyous sense of time well spent. But she had accomplished only a few rows when the porter walked through the car. He looked at the woman knitting, paused, hesitated a moment as if he wanted to say something, then changed his mind and went on.

But in a few minutes he returned with the conductor, who walked directly to the chair of the busy one and without the least h[illegible]tion s[illegible]d:

"Beg pardon, madam, but that, you know, is against the rules."

"I don't understand. What is it that's against the rules?"

"Knitting," replied the conductor briefly.

She laughed, then looked apprehensive and uncertain as to the next move of this seemingly harmless lunatic who presumed to tell her that knitting was against the rules. But she decided to humor him.

"But why knitting?" she asked. "I am allowed to read, I believe, and to play solitaire. Why this restriction on knitting?"

The conductor spoke again.

"Perhaps I should not have said it was against the rules," he said. "That was putting it too strongly. But we never allow a passenger to knit without a warning. Have you ever thought how dangerous these steel knitting needles would be in case of an accident?"

The woman meditated. This man was possibly not as mad as he seemed.

"Isn't it rather farfetched?" she asked. "Accidents—serious ones—don't happen very often, and if one should a little matter of a knitting needle or so wouldn't make much difference, I should think."

The entire car was listening now, and the conductor told of a wrecked train from which the body of a woman had been taken. There was no apparent cause for her death. She had been taken out of a mass of wreckage which had formed a sort of roof over her, leaving her little or no space in which to move, but quite safe from everything but the possibility of fire, which had, however, been averted. The surgeons had been at a loss to account for her death till one of them discovered that she had been stabbed through the heart by a sharp steel knitting needle out of the work which was still in her hands.

"There was another case, too," continued the conductor. "In one of my trains several years ago there was a passenger who insisted on knitting after I had warned her, and I went away. An hour or so afterward the car gave a sudden lurch. That woman happened to be stooping over her work to pick up a stitch or something, she said later, and in some way or other one of her knitting needles pierced her eye. She never recovered the sight of it."

The passengers all wondered what the woman with the knitting needle would do. They thought she would stop. But she didn't. She only sighed.

"Well, I've got to finish this for John's birthday—Monday—so I guess I'll take the risk," and placidly took up her knitting.

And the conductor walked away, locking volumes that might have been condensed into one sentence. "Wouldn't that jar you?" and disappeared.

And nothing whatever happened.—New York Times.

A Prophetic Dream.

The following prophetic dream was related by the president of a theological seminary: It had been the custom of one of the professors to invite all the students, with members of the faculty, to dinner at a hotel on the annual Thanksgiving day. On the morning of that day the wife of this professor suddenly fell dead in her dressing room at 8 o'clock. That morning at 7 o'clock one of the students woke up from a bad dream. He had dreamed that he sat down with the usual company at the Thanksgiving dinner and that immediately one of his fellow students rose in his place, saying that it was his painful duty to announce to the company that the wife of their host had suddenly died at 8 o'clock that morning. This dream, however, he had instantly banished from his mind as an uncanny probability and had thought no more about it. But on going to the dinner and taking his seat with the company he was unspeakably amazed to see the student seen in the dream rise and to hear him make the announcement made in the dream.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

Bulletin

THE STEEL COACH---A TRAVEL SAFEGUARD

The Pennsylvania Railroad now has in operation on its lines east of Pittsburg over two hundred passenger coaches dining cars, baggage cars, and mail cars of the new all-steel type.

The solid steel framework of these cars, designed to resist shock and minimize the dangers of collision, is further strengthened by the steel sheathing enclosing the body of the car. In fact, everything about the coach is steel, save the window frames, the cushions of the seats and the flooring. Such little woodwork as enters into the make-up of the coach, the plush with which the car seats are covered and the hair with which they are stuffed is treated to a fireproofing process, whilst the floors are cement, thus rendering the coach at once practically indestructible and thoroughly fire-proof. It is built like a battleship.

The new coach is longer than the standard car generally in use on the railroads of this country, and has comfortable seating capacity of sixty to ninety people according to the style of the coach.

The seats are adjusted to a more convenient space and angle, the coaches are all lighted with electricity and amply ventilated in winter as well as summer by new and thoroughly tested methods.

The interior finish of the coach is plain through pleasing to the eye. The absence of ornamentation enhances the idea of strenght and at the same time assures absolute cleanliness and thorough sanitation.

Steel cars are now in use on the principal trains between New York, Philadelphia, Washington, and on the Main Line between Philadelphia and Pittsburg. The number of cars is constantly being increased as the finished product comes from the shop.

CELEBRATION OF JUBILEE OF THE POPE

PARADE WAS A FEATURE

Sunday afternoon there convened in Charleroi societies and congregations of a number of the Catholic churches in the valley for the celebration of the golden jubilee of Pope Pius X. It is thought that in all there were 3,000 visitors this number including several priests who were here to assist in the exercises. The feature of the day was a parade which was followed by speaking in the Coyle theatre.

The societies of Monessen, and Charleroi churches met the honor guests at the station at Lock 4. In automobiles they were escorted, with the congregation of St. Jeromes, and the societies of the Polish, Italian and Slavish churches following, in the line of parade as it had been arranged. Coming from North Charleroi up McKean avenue to Ninth street the company went up that street to Fallowfield avenue, thence on that street to Second, down to McKean, then to Sixth street, up Fallowfield again, back to Fourth and then to the Coyle theatre.

By the time the marchers arrived at the theatre, that place was crowded, and hundreds could not gain admittance. Burgess Hott made the address of welcome. The principal speaker of the day was Rev. O'Connell, of Pittsburg. His address was of the Papacy. Another speaker was Monsignor William Kittell. His was a biographical sketch of the Pope. The meeting at the theatre was closed by Rev. W. D. Fries, of St. Jeromes. The benediction was said at St. Jeromes church, the people marching from the opera house to that place.

ATTORNEYS MUST FILE PETITIONS

Attorneys who represent liquor license applicants, retail and wholesale, in this county, are already making preparations to file the petitions of their respective clients. Within a few days these will begin to be put on file in the clerk of courts office. The past week several attorneys have been looking over last year's applications of their respective clients, in preparation for this year's petitions.

If the schedule is carried out as has previously been done Judge Taylor will sit in license court this year and court will open the first Monday in February. License court will be in session the same week that the grand jurors for the February term of criminal court meet. Judge McIlvaine will sit in criminal court that week.

Petitioners for liquor licenses must have their petitions in 30 days prior to the opening of license court. Remonstrances and supplemental petitioners are filed later.

JURY DISAGREED IN CASE AGAINST J. B. F. RINEHART

Waynesburg, Dec. 14.—(Special to the Mail.) The jury in the case against J. B. F. Rinehart who is charged with having wrecked the Farmer's and Drovers bank at this place have disagreed in the case, being unable to reach any agreement after being out since Saturday afternoon. The news of this was received with grief by those who have been assisting in the prosecution of Rinehart, and with joy by his friends. All Greene county is stirred by the case.

This morning the jury finding themselves unable to reach an agreement reported to the court. At 11 o'clock they were with the consent of the counsel for both Rinehart and the State discharged. Next week the former cashier of the Farmer's bank will be called before the Federal courts at Pittsburg to answer charges which grew out of the bank wrecking.

POPULAR YOUNG WOMAN SUCCUMBS

On Sunday morning at 3:15 o'clock, at her home in New Haven, Mrs. Nellie T. Lindaur, the wife of Fred Lindaur, died after a several days illness, of blood poisoning. The deceased was just past 20 years of age. The body was brought to Charleroi this afternoon on the 1:21 train to the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Barhnart on Fourth street. Mr. and Mrs. Lindaur have been married but about a year. They lived in Charleroi for some time moving to New Haven but recently. Mr. Lindaur was formerly employed as pianist at the Palace theatre here, of which the father of the deceased is the owner and manager. This is the first death in the Bernhart family which fact makes it all the more sadder for the sorrowing parents and near relatives. She was immensely popular among a large circle of friends in Charleroi, and other places in the valley where she was known, all of whom are extremely sorry to hear of her demise. The report was given out on Saturday afternoon by the attending physicians that Mrs. Lindaur would recover from her illness. The father who had been by her bedside, returned home. At 12 o'clock he was summoned by telephone, and told that she was dying.

Those who survive are the parents, a brother, Harry, and three sisters, Fannie, Ada and Lillian.

The funeral will be held from the home of the parents on Fourth street at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. T. Hackett, of the First Presbyterian church. The body will be taken to Monongahela for interment. A special car will convey the friends to that place, meeting the funeral procession at the foot of Fourth street.

Progressive Euchre.

A progressive euchre will be held in the Charleroi Savings and Trust company hall on Thursday evening of this week for the benefit of the Juvenile court of Washington county. Playing will begin at 8:15. All are invited.

Notice.

I hereby give notice that I have resigned as a detective, also from employment agency. People whom I took to be my enemies, proved to be my friends, and I will have nothing more to do with such work.

CORONER'S INQUEST ON THURSDAY

Thought that Sole Survivor of Marianna Horror May be Present

WILL BE AT COURT HOUSE

Coroner W. H. Sipe announced last evening that the inquest into the Marianna mine disaster would be held on Thursday of this week at the office of the coroner in the court house. The inquest will be begun at 10 o'clock a. m.

Numerous witnesses have been summoned including mine officials, mine experts mine inspectors and miners.

Coroner Sipe stated last evening that he hoped to have in attendance at the inquest, Fred Ellinger, the sole survivor of the awful catastrophe. Since being taken out of the mine the night after the explosion, Elinger has been in the Memorial hospital at Monongahela City. Attending physicians have not yet given their consent to Elinger's leaving the hospital. His presence at the inquest will depend entirely on his condition next Thursday morning.

SAD CASE OF MIS-IDENTIFICATION

Monongahela, Dec. 14.—An unfortunate case of mis-identification among the Marianna victims has been disclosed a body which was taken from the Rachel mine Thursday being positively identified by P. J. Mackin as that of his brother Alfred Mackin. Over a week ago a body brought from the wrecked mine was buried by relatives of Alfred Mackin as those remains had been identified and sworn to by another bretner as being Alfred Mackin's. The body brought out Thursday was also identified as that of Alfred Mackin by a young lady whose ring was on his finger when the explosion occurred. The first body was interred at Scottdale.

The body buried is believed to have been that of Seward Bennington, of Monongahela who with his brother was killed. The body of the elder Bennington brother was recovered but that of the younger boy had never been found to be identified. Both boys were sons of Mrs. Mary Bennington a widow.

Patrick Mackin a brother of young Mackin was in Monongahela on Saturday night and made positive identification of the body. Upon his return home he was accompanied by relatives of Bennington. They will have the body which was buried at Scottdale as Mackin exhumed at once and if it is the one for which they are seeking the body will be brought back to Monongahela and reburied. Both Mackin and Seward Bennington were of about the same size and build and it is thought that the first found was the body of the latter.

PERSISTENT EFFORT TO RAISE FUNDS

GOV. STUART A MEMBER

Washington, Dec. 14.—An organized effort to raise funds for the relief of those made destitute by the disaster at the Marianna mine of the Pittsburg-Buffalo company, this county, on November 28, was inaugurated Saturday afternoon by the Washington board of trade. A committee with Governor Edwin S. Stuart as its chairman and many prominent men in the state as members was appointed at the meeting to take charge of the relief work. Joseph C. Baird, cashier of the First National bank, has been appointed custodian of all funds and it is the request of the board of trade that all funds of for the Marianna relief fund be sent to him.

Saturday afternoon a formal appeal to the people of Pennsylvania was issued by the Washington board of trade for $100,000 which amount it is estimated will be necessary at once to relieve the destitution. This appeal will be sent to all sections of the commonwealth and contributions will be solicited everywhere. The action of the local board of trade was taken following a specific appeal made today by the local relief committee at Marianna. This appeal addressed to the Washington organization follows:

"To the Washington Board of Trade:

"The committee in charge of the relief fund for the widows and orphans of the Marianna mine disaster hereby makes an appeal to the Washington board of trade for their assistance in the raising of funds and also in the distribution of same. We desire hearty co-opeartion with the board of trade in devising methods by which to reach those who are in the foreign field. Please consider this matter and if possible come to our relief.

(Signed) "Rev. J. E. Lewis,
"Chairman of Committee.

LECTURER OTT WILL BE HERE

We are apt to think that in this day of rush and hurry there is no time for the art of oratory. Social and economic conditions have made it necessary that each man should cultivate the art of being brief; of speaking only when it is absolutely necessary and the saying what he wants to say as expeditiously as possible. There are those among us who regret this tendency of the times sincerely, just as we do the charges in home life and the loss of other cultural leisure. We would like to get back to the days of the old Greeks and Romans, when men and women had time to talk things over and indulge in frequent flights on the wings of oratory.

So when we come to a little bit of the real thing in this day and generation it is wonderfully refreshing. Once in a while a man comes to us with the gift of speech. He takes his audience with him up to to the heights. He and they together rise above the humdrum everyday cares and perplexities into a purer air. It is a rare gift but some men have it. Oratory is not dead—not yet. Governor Cummins of Iowa says of Edward Amherst Ott, who will appear here on Friday on the High School lecture course

"It is a curious effort to assume that the day of the orator has passed. Upon the contrary, I believe his influence is greater than ever before. Therefore I feel a deep interest in the work Mr. Ott is doing. He is an accomplished speaker, a close and indefatigable student and eminently fitted to train men, whether old or young, in the art of public speaking."

MAY LOOSE AN EYE FROM THE RESULT OF BRIEF BATTLE

It is feared that a man by the name of William Romig, a painter of Monongahela will lose an eye as the result of a brief battle on the river shore at Monongahela this morning with a former enemy, Daniel Barrett, a railroad man. The two had not seen each other for some time, and when they met this morning in a barber shop an old quarrel was renewed. They went to the river shore to settle the differences. Barrett was the quicker, and in a twinkling had knocked Romig down. He kicked him into the river, and when spectators arrived, the latter was just scrambling from that place.

One of his eyes was badly cut and hanging over his cheek, and blood was flowing from the wound. Romig claimed that Barrett struck him with a bolt. He had a physician dress his injury, but it is hardly likely that the eye, which was practically the only wound, can be saved. A warrant was sworn out for Barrett and he will be arrested, it is thought today.

CHARLEROI BEATS LEAGUE LEADERS

The Charleroi team in the Monongahela Valley Association Football league on Saturday on the local grounds beat the champion Roscoe eleven which at present leads in the league, in what was without doubt the best game of the season. The rivalry was intense, which fact made the contest fast and furious throughout. After the beginning of the second half, it was neither's contest for several minutes until J. Hynds, the star Charleroi center forward through extraordinary brilliant work, succeeded in getting the ball between the bars.

The first score was made by Charleroi in the first half, after about fifteen minutes of play. Up until that time the ball had been kept in the middle of the field. J. Hynds made the kick which sent it through. No other scores were made in this half.

In the second half the Roscoe team got one on a penalty, tying the score. Soon after, Charleroi secured one, it being the final score of the game. Near the last of the contest, some of the most beautiful work ever seen on the football field was witnessed. The work of J. Hynds, who was the shining light of the game, the entire backfield of the local bunch, and that of the McKinclose brothers of Roscoe, deserves special mention. The lineup:

Charleroi—2.		Roscoe—1.
Baird	G	Collins
H. Hynds	F. B.	Brisbine
Mencer	F. B.	George McKinclose
Brooks	H. B	Dickson
Robison	H. B.	Garnet McKinclose
Clark	H. B.	Malarkey
Luxbacker	F.	Fechter
Campbell	F.	Allen
J. Hynds	F	Duncan
Holden	F.	Underwood
O'Hara	F.	Davis.

Goals—J Hynds 2. Penalty goal—Garnet McKinclose. Referee—Little of Baird. Linesmen—Quinn and Collins. Time of halves—45 minutes.

Notice.

Having disposed of our business we wish to close our books and request that all parties owing this firm make settlement by December 20, 1908 or the same will be placed with the proper authorities for collection.

INSTITUTE OPENS AT WASHINGTON

Many Teachers of County are in Attendance at First Session

Paper From Corn Stalk.

One of the most pleasing things that we have had the pleasure of hearing, is that cheap paper can be made from cornstalks. Uncle Sam's busy chemists have solved this fact for us. The disappearance of forests, and the machinations of the paper trust have made the price of paper soar like a bird, and at the rate we are going now paper is destined to be beyond the reach of ordinary individuals—paper railroads would cost more than real ones, and paper soled shoes will be a luxury. The conditions are such, that it is plain to be seen that if something was not done and that soon, the Sunday newspaper will be no larger than the ordinary atlas, and the cost of magazines will be so great that all story matter will have to be left out.

It seems however that we are to be saved from these possibilities. With the farmer growing cook-books and car wheels, and fire proof theatre curtains behind the barn, there is little danger of a world wide famine, in this commodity Before long it is thought that the farmer may have his own paper trust. This would be a good scheme for the farmers, and the user alike, for the farmer would have a new source of profit and the cost of the commodity to the user would be considerable decreased.

Much Needed Improvement.

It would be a good idea for the Charleroi Water company, that seemingly heartless corporation, against which there has been so many kicks registered to provide for their patrons in this place a method by which they could learn when the water in the main lines is to be turned off. Yesterday at noon we had an example of the inconvenience which can be caused the residents by the shutting off of the water supply, and not notifying the users. The cause of the discontinuance of the supply for something over an hour was a break in the main line, on Third street, which had to be fixed. It happened at just the most inconvenient time of the day, and when the residents were in the most need of the water.

If the company would arrange to by notify their patrons by whistle, or in some other method, it would be a great improvement. It could easily be arranged at a very small cost.

BIG SUIT FOR DAMAGES NOW ON

When common pleas court was adjourned on Saturday two cases remained unconcluded. In Judge McIlvaine's room the Bumgarner-P. R. R. damage suit was still being heard. The plaintiff's side has completed its direct testimony and this afternoon at 1 o'clock the defense will put in its testimony. The defense will endeavor to prove that the plaintiff's farm has not been damaged in any such amount as he alleges. As to the depreciation in the value of his coal the defense will show that the plaintiff holds just 30 acres, that it is surrounded by coal of the Clyde Coal company, and not unaccessable for this company, and not liable to be taken up by any other company on account of the small acreage.

In Judge Taylor's room in the Beddine-Farabee, et al suit, a claim for lumber, the testimony was completed ... noon on Saturday, and this afternoon the arguments will be made, jury charged and case given to the jury. Of the cases remaining over from last week there are two other suits of Jesse Bumgarner against the Pittsburg, Monongahela and Southern Railroad company to follow the one now on trial These will take up the most of the week Another case carried over to this week is the suit of J. It has been intimated, and from the report, I hear I am blamed for being one of the parties who bought the whiskey at Fredericktown and sold a quantity of the same back to the distiller. DON'T BE BALD

A HEROIC KNITTER.

No Yarns of Danger Could Deter This Placid Old Lady.

Coming up from Washington to New York one day, a woman was seen to make herself comfortable in one of the big chairs in the parlor car, and when the train was well under way she proceeded to take out some pretty silk knitting work, which would seem an ideal occupation for a journey of a few hours, as it involves no eye strain and gives one a joyous sense of time well spent. But she had accomplished only a few rows when the porter walked through the car. He looked at the woman knitting, paused, hesitated a moment as if he wanted to say something, then changed his mind and went on.

But in a few minutes he returned with the conductor, who walked directly to the chair of the busy one and without the least hesitation said:

"Beg pardon, madam, but that, you know, is against the rules."

"I don't understand. What is it that's against the rules?"

"Knitting," replied the conductor briefly.

She laughed, then looked apprehensive and uncertain as to the next move of this seemingly harmless lunatic who presumed to tell her that knitting was humor him.

"But why knitting?" she asked. "I am allowed to read, I believe, and to play solitaire. Why this restriction on knitting?"

The conductor spoke again.

"Perhaps I should not have said it was against the rules," he said. "That was putting it too strongly. But we never allow a passenger to knit without a warning. Have you ever thought how dangerous those steel knitting needles would be in case of an accident?"

The woman meditated. This man was possibly not as mad as he seemed.

"Isn't it rather farfetched?" she asked. "Accidents—serious ones—don't happen very often, and if one should a little matter of a knitting needle or so wouldn't make much difference. I should think."

The entire car was listening now, and the conductor told of a wrecked train from which the body of a woman had been taken. There was no apparent cause for her death. She had been taken out of a mass of wreckage which had formed a sort of roof over her, leaving her little or no space in which to move, but quite safe from everything but the possibility of fire, which had, however, been averted. The surgeons had been at a loss to account for her death till one of them discovered that she had been stabbed through the heart by a sharp steel knitting needle out of the work which was still in her hands.

"There was another case, too," continued the conductor. "In one of my trains several years ago there was a passenger who insisted on knitting after I had warned her, and I went away. An hour or so afterward the car gave a sudden lurch. That woman happened to be stooping over her work to pick up a stitch or something, she said later, and in some way or other one of her knitting needles pierced her eye. She never recovered the sight of it."

The passengers all wondered what the woman with the knitting needle would do. They thought she would stop. But she didn't. She only sighed.

"Well, I've got to finish this for John's birthday—Monday—so I guess I'll take the risk," and placidly took up her knitting.

And the conductor walked away, looking volumes that might have been condensed into one sentence. "Wouldn't that jar you?" and disappeared.

And nothing whatever happened.—New York Times.

A Prophetic Dream.

The following prophetic dream was related by the president of a theological seminary: It had been the custom of one of the professors to invite all the students, with members of the faculty, to dinner at a hotel on the annual Thanksgiving day. On the morning of that day the wife of this professor suddenly fell dead in her dressing room at 8 o'clock. That morning at 7 o'clock one of the students woke up from a bad dream. He had dreamed that he sat down with the usual company at the Thanksgiving dinner and that immediately one of his fellow students rose in his place, saying that it was his painful duty to announce to the company that the wife of their host had suddenly died at 8 o'clock that morning. This dream, however, he had instantly banished from his mind as an uncanny probability and had thought no more about it. But on going to the dinner and taking his seat with the company he was unspeakably amazed to see the student seen in the dream rise and to hear him make the announcement made in the dream.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

Bulletin

THE STEEL COACH---A TRAVEL SAFEGUARD

The Pennsylvania Railroad [illegible] its lines east of Pittsburg over two hundred passenger coaches dining cars, baggage cars, and mail cars of the new all-steel type.

The solid steel framework of these cars, designed to resist shock and minimize the dangers of collision, is further strengthened by the steel sheathing enclosing the body of the car. In fact, everything about the coach is steel, save the window frames, the cushions of the seats and the flooring. Such little woodwork as enters into the make-up of the coach, the plush with which the car seats are covered and the hair with which they are stuffed is treated to a fireproofing process, whilst the floors are cement, thus rendering the coach at once practically indestructible and thoroughly fire-proof. It is built like a battleship.

The new coach is longer than the standard car generally in use on the railroads of this country, and has comfortable seating capacity of sixty to ninety people according to the style of the coach.

The seats are adjusted to a more convenient space and angle, the coaches are all lighted with electricity and amply ventilated in winter as well as summer by new and thoroughly tested methods.

The interior finish of the coach is plain through pleasing to the eye. The absence of ornamentation enhances the idea of strenght and at the same time assures absolute cleanliness and thorough sanitation.

Steel cars are now in use on the principal trains between New York, Philadelphia, Washington, and on the Main Line between Philadelphia and Pittsburg. The number of cars is constantly being increased as the finished product comes from the shop.
